- 1) The boat owner agrees to keep insurance in place during the storage period
- 2) Not Responsible for dead batteries after the boat is hauled out / turn off all DC Power prior to your haul out week.
- 3) The boat owner is responsible to grab their power cords from the slip if not easily accessible
- 4) We have the right to move the boat during storage during an emergency to any location including off-site
- 5) Stillwater Marina and their staff or not responsible for acts outside our control and assumes no liability in loss or damage caused by compromised hull structures/keels and or hardware, fire, water, lightning, hail, malicious mischief, collapse of buildings or failure to act.
- 6) Flooding is always a possibility and the boat owner is responsible to prep their boat for such an event. During an emergency call your insurance for additional ice coverage while in water.
- 7) PLAN accordingly to avoid re blocking fees by choosing the week of haul out to match reverse order in the Spring. Last week out may be first week in for launch.
- 8) Stillwater Marina will haul out your boat on your desired week and not always on a specific day and it's same for spring launch. Use of slip may incur transient fees if over 24 hours after Spring launch.
- 9) Boats left on land after May 1st may incur a daily storage fee of 50.00 per day unless other arrangements are made. After 60 days we will consider the property abandoned and proceed with legal actions. The owner is responsible for all legal fees after 60 days of abandonment.
